

Hello friends!

I will be ScamBaiting live again very soon. It might be as early as Monday Dec 1 or the following Wednesday and I'm very excited about it!

But I have had a difficult year. There's something in me that causes acute anxiety, and when I was hired to work from home for MIT, I lost access to Medicaid and SNAP.

I could not afford the expensive medication I had been taking and this happened:

I became very sick and ended up in the emergency room where they gave me a 30-day dose of the medicine to help curb the anxiety so I could get my appetite back.

As a result, I lost the job that I had, working from home. To remedy my situation, I have relocated to another state to live with a relative who prepared a room for me. I am now qualified for Medicaid and SNAP again: I am now scheduled to meet with a doctor to seek a long-term anxiety medicine solution, a less expensive one hopefully.

But there's a problem:

I do not have a job right now. I'm actually driving for Door Dash to make a little bit of money but that's not good especially during the winter when roads are icy.

I am offering you a chance to read some of my best science fiction and fantasy stories for free in part to re-introduce myself before I go live again next week.

Below is a section with links to the stories you can read. They can be viewed on a on a computer, mobile phone, or even a tablet. You will have to zoom in to see the text clearly as it has been formatted to be printed by a publishing company.

I use the pseudonym R.W. Mime and have been since 1995 when I published my first story “The Funny Bunny.”

Some of the stories, such as Desert Wake 1 and Desert Wake 2 are only previews, but they are still worth reading (100+ pages). I will be glad to answer questions in a live stream about what happens later in the story without spilling any important secrets.

You will see that I put a great deal of effort to write these stories. I have a unique writing style and I base my work on science, history, and futurism research.

My plan is to finish these stories very soon:

Nevada Ghost Tales

IOI

I = Desert Wake 1 (preview)

O = RoadGames (complete)

I = Desert Wake 2 (preview)

I'm also including these short stories:

Tin Can Man

The Funny Bunny

Gloria

If you feel the content I am providing warrants a PayPal Tip, please feel free to do so; if not, no worries as I am not asking for a handout. The links for tipping are at the end of this page.

RoadGames, for example, took about 600 hours to write over a ten-year period and when I finished it, I was in joyous tears!

I plan to live stream in the morning, take an hour break, then Door Dash for about four hours. That is, until I get a job or if my live streams start making enough for me to contribute to the relative that I am staying with (who is on a fixed income). Then I will ScamBait for a living again.

If I end up taking an 8-5 job, I won't be able to ScamBait during prime time, but I will try to do PCH scambaiting in the evening.

I'm really excited, but right now I feel I need to do more to contribute to the relative I am staying with as bills are piling up and I feel pressured to help out with paying them.

Please don't worry about me. I'm working hard to set up my streaming studio and plan to have a stream very soon. I may start streams without a ScamBait machine just to troll them and have fun, take an hour break and do some Door Dashing to help pay some of the bills.

Take care, and hope you take the time to give my stories a chance and offer criticism, advice, or just comments. You can send comments to:
